OF ARRESTS FAR EXCELS M'ADOO'S

Dr. Parkhurst's Bitter Denunciation Lacking in Accuracy.

In spite of the Rev. Dr. Parkhurst's letter to Police Commissioner Bingham Gen. Theodore A. Bingham's advent in Mulberry street has made more arrests, and the figures show this.

The report printed on this page offers for comparison the work done by the department for the first quarter this year and last, and the work of Gen. Bingham's administration does not suffer in the comparison.

The figures were secured by The Evening World at Police Headquarters When Burglars Thrived.

During the early months of last year there occurred hundreds of burglaries and crimes of a felonious character. The police seemed wholly unable to cope with the situation. Capt. O'Brien, then the nominal head of the Detective Bureau, was not active. The affairs were in the hands of an acting captain, who had never been regarded as anything better than an ordinary detective. The bureau was practically in The old men refused to work Crimes of all kinds were of daily ocourrence and arrests were few. It is arrested there are twenty burglaries committed. The number of arrests made does not of necessity indicate the amount of crime existing, but it does snow the activity of the police, With Gen. Bingham's appearance in Mulberry street and his selection of as his secretary a new head was found for the demoralized Detective Bureau. A man was put in charge who the old men knew wor sor accept trilling and of whom the sor men were in real fear.

Pupil of Byrnes.

Inspector William McLeighlin learned his ousiness when Thomas Byrnes was at the head of the department.

"Pick up a crook every time you find him out at hight," is the order Metacaghin gives his men.

The works on the principle that when a burghar is in a cent at ronce Head-quarters he cannot pay his trade to any appreciable extent. These crooks after being picked up repeatedly get discouraged and leave the city.

Not long since thiese Boston crooks were taken to headquarters, and on their promise to leave the city were taken to headquarters, and on the following hight.

Inclaughing looked them over and said: "How about that promise you made me?"

One of the trio fell on his knees and One of the trio fell on his knees and pleaded poverty. I haven't a dollar in the world-not enough to pay my lare out of the city."

One Method That Worked.

One Method That Worked.

"Til loan you each a dollar." said the Inspector, "and don't stop going until you reach the city where you learned your trade."

The three have not been seen in New York since. A few days ago McLaugh-lin received by mail a dollar from one of the trio. The letter came from a town in Massachusetts.

The table of arrests shows that 2.874 crooks have been picked up by the police since Jan. 1.

The General's abolishment of the numerous squads which were his predecessor's pride also gives the people of the city a better protection by having more men, baton in hand, patrolling the streets. Fair-minded citzens, after a vareful perusal of the table, will agree that Gen, Bingham should be given credit for his showing.

PLAY BY SCHOOL PUPILS.

Dramatic Club Makes a Hit at

Closing Entertainment. The closing entertainment given by Public School No. 1 Dramatic Club and the Hawthorne Literary Club took place last night at Public School No. 1. An last night at Public School No. 1. An interesting programme was arranged for the evening, including an opening address by Samuel S. Silver, manager of the Dramatic Club: piano solos, dialogues, comicel readings, recitations, selections from "Julius Caesar," a comedy and impersonations.

The biggest success of the evening was attained by the Dramatic Club in the play, "Lord Fauntleroy." The youngsters acted their parts with much yim. The principal of the school is Dr. Wilfred L. Foster. About five hundred persons were present.

Unton Sinclair will tell The Evening World readers, in a series of articles. how he investigated Beef Trust methods in Chicago and wrote his book. "The Jungle"-a gruesome revelation of the packing-house industry and a pathotic picture of the hopeless condition of poverty-st loken wage-carners. The serles commences Monday. June 4.
